

Royal and Noble Jewels: History, Style and Splendour, 1600-Today

Dates: 17-18 October, 2019 | Day course | 10.00am-5.00pm

Fee: £850; includes lectures, lunches and private handling session

From the days of antiquity, royal and noble women have covered themselves with priceless jewels. Join Daniela Mascetti, Chairman of Jewellery, Sotheby's Europe, on a journey through four hundred years of beauty, glamour and romance as she explores some of the most iconic pieces and important gemstones in European history. From Marie de Medici and Marie Antoinette to Empress Josephine and Empress Eugénie, and from Queen Alexandra and Queen Mary to the Duchess of Windsor and the Princess of Thurn and Taxis, the course immerses participants in the stories of private royal collections, as well as those now owned by the State. It culminates with a private handling session of forthcoming sale highlights at Sotheby's, New Bond Street.
